Words of Wisdom.

Truth is the root, but human sympathy is the flower of practical life.—Chapin.

The sword is but a hideous flash in the darkness; right is an eternal ray.—Hugo.

What succeeds we keep, and it becomes the habit of mankind.—Theodore Parker.

The soul and spirit that animates and keeps up society is mutual trust.—South.

Nature hath appointed the twilight as a bridge to pass us out of night into day.—Fuller.

Treason is like diamonds; there is nothing to be made by the small trader.—Douglas Jerrold.

In general, treachery, though at first sufficiently cautious, yet in the end betrays itself.—Livy.

The man who loves with his whole heart truth will love still more he who suffers for truth.—Lavater.

Temperance is corporeal piety; it is the preservation of divine order in the body.—Theodore Parker.

The past and future are veiled, but the past wears the widow's veil, the future the virgin's.—Richter.

The tongue of a fool is the key of his counsel, which in a wise man wisdom hath in keeping.—Socrates.

A dull head thinks of no better way to show himself wise than by suspecting everything in his way.—Sir P. Sidney.

As it addeth deformity to an ape to be so like a man, so the similitude of superstition to religion makes it the more deformed.—Bacon.

Power exercised with violence has seldom been of long duration, but temper and moderation generally produce permanence in all things.—Seneca.

The smaller the drink, the clearer the head and the cooler the blood, which are great benefits in temper and business.—William Penn.

Whatever situation in life you ever wish or propose for yourself, acquire a clear and lucid idea of the inconveniences attending it.—Shenstone.

Terror itself, when once grown transcendental, becomes a kind of courage, as frost sufficiently intense, according to the poet Milton, will burn.—Carlyle.

It requires a great deal of boldness and a great deal of caution to make a great fortune, and when you have got it, it requires ten times as much wit to keep it.—Rothschild.

O, guard the roving thoughts with jealous care, for speech is but the dial plate of thought, and every fool reads plainly in thy words what is the hour of thy thought.—Tennyson.

All travel has its advantages. If the passenger visits better countries, he may learn to improve his own, and if fortune carries him to worse, he may learn to enjoy his own.—Johnson.

Flowing water is at once a picture and a music, which causes to flow at the same time from my brain, like a limpid and murmuring rivulet, sweet thoughts, charming reveries, and melancholy remembrances.—Alphonse Karr.

A man's time, when well husbanded, is like a cultivated field, of which a few acres produces more of what is useful to life than extensive provinces even of the richest soil, when overrun with weeds and brambles.—Hume.

Absolute ugliness is admitted as rarely as perfect beauty, but degrees of it, more or less distinct, are associated with whatever has the nature of death and sin, just as beauty is associated with what has the nature of virtue and life.—Ruskin.

The world is always ready to receive talent with open arms. Very often it does not know what to do with genius. Talent is a docile creature. It bows its head meekly while the world slips the collar over it. It backs into the shafts like a lamb.—Holmes.

Like an inundation of the Indus is the course of time. We look for the homes of our childhood; they are gone. The loves and animosities of youth, where are they? Swept away like the camps that had been pitched in the sandy bed of the river.—Longfellow.

For The Housewife.

Wash ceilings smoked with kerosene in strong soda water.

A little gum arabic added to boiling starch will give it a lustre.

Castor oil applied to a wart once a day for a month will remove it.

Simmered together, rice, flour and water, it is stated, make a good cement.

Moths will not infest carpets underlaid with newspapers. The odor of the printer's ink drives them off.

A piece of camphor gum placed in a drawer where articles of steel are kept will prevent them from tarnishing.

It is said that if parsley is eaten with onions the odor of the onion will not effect the breath. The sprigs of parsley should be eaten as you would celery.

Old potatoes are greatly improved by being soaked in cold water over night, or at least several hours after peeling. The water should be changed once or twice.

A small piece of candle may be made burn all night by putting finely-powdered salt on it until it reaches the black part of the wick. A small even light may be kept in this way.

Wormwood boiled in vinegar and applied as hot as can be borne on a sprain or bruise is invaluable remedy. The affected member should afterward be rolled in flannel to retain the heat.

There is nothing that will clean a soiled or dirty carpet so easily or thoroughly as corn meal. Sprinkle it plentifully, let it lay for 15 or 20 minutes and then sweep it off. It will work like magic on spots that soap could never remove.

To stain wood to look like ebony, take a solution of sulphate of iron and wash the wood over twice, and after it is dry apply two or three coats of a strong decoction of logwood. Wipe the wood dry and polish with a flannel wet in linseed oil.

A Spanish delicacy: Some very odd but delicious cooking is done among the Spanish families of San Francisco. Here is a recipe that will be found piquant and appetizing: Heat an earthen dish over a moderate fire and melt in a good-sized piece of butter; add a small onion, minced fine, salt, pepper, a teaspoonful of minced parsley and as much chill pepper or a tablespoonful of sweet pepper; break the eggs one by one into the boiling butter and turn them as soon as they are wet, using great care not to break the yolks. Serve very hot in the same dish, which may be placed inside one of silver.

The Cynic.

What a foolish love letter the other man writes!

Every man has reason to be thankful that the fool killer is dead.

There is nothing in which people are so inconsistent as in their economy.

If you love any one well enough to die for him, first get your life insured in his favor.

No man ever thought a woman was an angel, though many of them have lied about it.

As a first evidence that a wife's love is failing, she begins to exaggerate her duty to her kin.

Any girl who has as much as $50 of her own saved up can have a husband if she lets it be known that she has $50.

A Precocious Youth.

From Harper's Round Table.

"Tommy, your spelling report is very bad," said Mr. Hicks to his boy.

"That's all right, papa," said Tommy. "When I grow up I'm going to dictate all my letters like you do. It's the typewriter that'll have to know spelling, not me."

Don't let anyone persuade you to take anything else instead of Simmon's Liver Regulator. Some merchants will try to do this, but not for your good. They do it to make a little more profit on something which is of an inferior quality, though you must pay just as much for the bad as for the good. Be sure to take Simmon's Liver Regulator, and nothing else. Look for the Red Z on every package.

Hints About Health.

That rapid eating is slow suicide.

That happy children are almost invariably healthy children.

All foods should be carefully chewed, as the gastric juice is thus enabled the better to do its work.

That in sleeping in a cold room establish a habit of breathing through the nose, never with the mouth open.

That a severe paroxysm of coughing may often be arrested by a tablespoonful of glycerine in a wine glass of hot milk.

People who have weak stomachs or who are unable to take much exercise should not eat pastry, which is considered very difficult of digestion.

Violent exercise should not be taken immediately after eating, as the blood required for digestion is drawn away from the stomach and indigestion follows.

That to compel a child to eat anything against which its palate naturally rebels is a cruelty at the moment, and is likely to produce evil results later on.

That a few drops of the tincture of benzoin put into the water in which the face is bathed will prevent the shiny appearance of the skin with which so many people are affected, especially in warm weather.

That cold water is the salvation of the complexion. It strengthens the skin by stimulating the circulation and renders it almost proof against chaps and eruptions. When the skin needs cleaning, warm water is absolutely necessary.

Salt baths are pronounced good for nervous and worn-out people. Put a tablespoonful of kitchen salt or two or three, as your skin will stand it, into a quart of hot water. Use a flannel cloth, a good, big one which half wring out of the salt water and then rub yourself for dear life. It is very invigorating for some, and there are others who can't stand it at all. The only way to find out is to test it. If you feel tired and exhausted after it, lessen the salt. If that does not help you stop it entirely.

Gossip About Prominent People.

The height of Queen Victoria is only 4 feet 10 inches.

Jackson Shultz and wife, of Carthage, Ill., who have been married 59 years, are said to be the oldest married couple in that state.

The Crown Princess Stephanie of Australia has gained popularity among the people by singing solos to them in churches and halls of entertainment.

Lillian Russell, the queen of comic opera, has been presented by an eastern bicycle firm with a $1,400 bicycle. Gold and silver was used largely in its manufacture.

The Misses Simpson are making a dress for Miss Ella Ewing that contains 80 yards of material, 30 yards of dress goods, 30 of lining, 10 of lace and 10 of ribbon.—Garin Argus.

Great men usually carry their full mental vigor and activity into old age. M. Chevreul, M. De Lesseps, Gladstone, Bismack, Pius IX, and others are evidences of this anthropological fact.

Rev. W. H. Milburn, the blind chaplain of the United States senate, is one of the remarkable men of the times. He was one of the most popular lecturers in the "Lyceum days" and he was elected chaplain of congress 51 years ago, in 1845. At that time he was only 22 years of age and the youngest man whose voice was ever heard in congress before or since that date.

BLACK is a success. We know it. If you will weigh your goods and use one package of Putnam Fadeless Dyes for each 3-4 of a pound of goods, boil for one hour, you cannot fail. Remember that Putnam Fadeless Dyes are the only package dyes used by woolen and cotton manufacturers throughout the United States. Why do the manufacturers use them? Because by using Putnam Fadeless Dyes they can dispense with the service of a high-priced dyer and get just as good results. You can do the same. Sold by W. C. GASTON, Druggist.

I have told you of the Spaniard who always put on his spectacles when about to eat cherries, that they might look bigger and more tempting. In like manner I make the most of my enjoyments.—Southey.

"Press-ed."

It's unlucky to be killed on Friday.

It is not probable that the "woman of the future" will scorn the man with the present.

You seldom find a family in the country so poor and shiftless that it can't afford to keep another dog.

Jacob would never have fallen in love and served fourteen years for Rachel had he met her for the first time dressed in bloomers astride of a bicycle.

Whyso—"This physiognomist says that aggressive, impulsive people generally have black eyes."

Knowso—"If not at first, they get them later."

"Why can't we be married right away?" "Oh, I can't bear to leave father just yet." "But, my darling, he has had you such a long, long time." She (freezing): "Sir!"

When a woman has had unusually good luck with a new kind of cake, the family never gets more than a quarter of it. The rest of it she sends around among the neighbors.

His Wife—"My dear, you have been talking a great deal in your sleep lately."

Presidential Possibility—"Have I—ahem!—I hope—I hope I have not expressed any decided views about the currency question?"

She was a smart and pretty girl. She wrote the advertising for a large dry goods concern in town. Her mind used to run so much upon her business that one day when she wrote to her lover to meet her that night at home she unconsciously added a postscript: "Come early and avoid the rush!"

Among the sinners, in a recent revival in the south was an old colored lady who had been an inveterate smoker for many years. "My sister," said the evangelist, "do you know that you are endangering your soul's salvation by smoking? Nothing unclean can enter heaven."

"Huh," replied the old woman; "I specks to leave my bref behind when I goes to heaven."

Mrs. Farmer—"You said if I gave a breakfast you'd put in an hour's work on that woodpile and you've done nothing."

"Nothen', mum? I've been calkerlatin' how many horse-power it 'ud require ter saw dat hull pile, countin' two hundred feet ter de saw and each foot wid a muscular resistance uv one chawegramme. Mebbe yer don't know it, but brain work's de hardes' kind uv work, lady."

Secrets Of A Happy Life.

If you are slighted; brood over it.

If you lose money, brood over it.

If one fickle girl jilts you, commit suicide.

If business is dull snivel and kick the dog.

Always have an excuse ready or an apology.

If a friend doesn't speak to you, brood over it.

Let the same woman snub you twice or more.

If you can't dress so well as some one else, brood over it.

If you are criticized severely, grow faint and don't try again.

Make yourself the theme of conversations whenever possible.

Talk loud enough for some one to hear whose good opinion you crave.

Never intimate to any one that smoking or other habits is a gentleman's privilege. Dwell upon the necessity to your health.

If your life doesn't seem to be what it should; if you feel that for your life is little more than hollow mockery, then for you these suggestions are intended.

Finally, don't tend to your own affairs; be discouraged at any incident; have plenty of superstition; swallow an insult because it emanates from a superior source; give in to "what" will folks say; do what you can't afford because some one is looking; be bulldozed by the I-know-it-all man, and look and act silly when bluffed by the superior source.

Pitcher's Castoria.

START

THE GIRL RIGHT.

When the girl comes to be a woman—look out. If she starts out in vigorous, womanly health then it is pretty safe to say she will be a healthy, attractive, beautiful woman.

The beginning of womanhood is the real crisis in a woman's life. Nearly always something is wrong then in the distinctly feminine organs. Maybe it isn't very serious—no matter—the time to stop disease is when it starts.

McELREE'S

WINE OF CARDUI

will bring girls safely through the crisis. Taken at the first indication of weakness, it never fails. It regulates the monthly periods with perfect precision. Its action is direct upon the feminine organs that above all others, ought to be strong and well.

Start the girl right. Don't expose her to the dangers and tortures of dragging weakness, bearing down pains, nervous prostration and the debilitating drains so common to women.

McElree's Wine of Cardui, is a home treatment. It does away entirely with abortifacient "local examinations."

Sold at $1.00 a Bottle by Dealers in Medicine.

YEARS OF INTENSE PAIN.

Dr. J. H. Watts, druggist and physician, Humboldt, Neb., who suffered with heart disease for four years, trying every remedy and all treatment known to him, and follow-practitioners; believes that heart disease is curable. He writes:

"I wish to tell what your valuable medicine has done for me. For four years I had heart disease of the very worst kind. Several physicians I consulted, said it was Rheumatism of the Heart."

It was almost unbearable; with shortness of breath, palpitations severe pains, unable to sleep, especially on the left side. No pen can describe my sufferings, particularly during the last months of those four weary years.

DR. J. H. WATTS, I finally tried Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and was surprised at the result. It put new life into and made a new man of me. I have not had a symptom of trouble since and I am satisfied your medicine has cured me for I have now enjoyed, since taking it

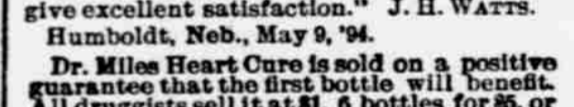

Three Years of Splendid Health. I might add that I am a druggist and have sold and recommended your Heart Cure, for I know what it has done for me and only wish I could state more clearly my suffering then and the good health I now enjoy. Your Nervine and other remedies also give excellent satisfaction." J. H. WATTS.

Humboldt, Neb., May 9, '94.

Dr. Miles Heart Cure is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1.00, 6 bottles for $5.00, or it will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.
